Flames Destroy Barn; Loss Heavy

2000 Fruit Trays and 1500
Fruit Boxes Consumed
By Flames

Fire which broke out about 11 o'clock Sunday night completely destroyed a large barn on the Joe Perry ranch between Irvington and Centerville, containing 2000 fruit drying trays, 1500 fruit boxes, and a Dodge truck.

The origin of the flames which caused damage approximating several thousand dollars is unknown, although it is reported that evidence indicates that the blaze may have been of an incendiary nature.

The boxes, trays, and truck were the property of James Russo, rentor of the ranch from Perry, and were covered by insurance. There was no insurance on the truck.

Only intensive efforts on the part of the Centerville fire department prevented the home and other buildings on the ranch from being consumed by the flames.

The blaze was discovered by a San Jose truck driver on his way to Oakland, who turned on the alarm. Russo was at his home in Niles at the time. The Centerville fire department came rushing to the scene but it was impossible to save the barn.

Members of the Decoto fire department also were on the scene.

Land Purchase Argument for Local Street Extension

An important transfer of real estate took place in Niles last week when Mr. and Mrs. Creed Domenici became owners of the tract of land on the corner adjoining the Veterans' Memorial building and bounded by First and "E" streets.

It has been pointed out that the natural growth of Niles is toward the west, which looms as an effective argument for the opening of First street through the California Nursery Company property, looked forward to eagerly by many of those interested in the town's growth.

Correction To Water Directors' Report

IN THE story concerning the Alameda County Water District report published last week an error occurred in the paragraph concerning the reduction of the floating debt. Instead of $500, the figure should have read $5000, which means a reduction of one half in the debt this year.

Another error occurred in the estimated commercial value of the 30-inch pipe recently taken up and stored on the District's yard. The figure should have read $4000 instead of $400. The water directors desire that the corrections be known in order that a correct estimate of the district's financial condition can be made.

St. Louis Fugitive Arrested by Washington Township Officers

Wanted in St. Louis, Missouri, on a charge of embezzlement, a three and a half years' hunt for Sidney Arthur Rutherford, 34, ended at Newark Monday when he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Hugo Radbruch and Constable O. W. Ebright, of Niles.

Rutherford was taken into custody at a manufacturing firm where he had been employed for the past two months. He is alleged to have defaulted his bail in St. Louis three and a half years ago.

Violation of a city ordinance in Palo Alto three weeks ago which resulted in a five-day jail sentence led to Rutherford's arrest. At that time his fingerprints were taken by Palo Alto police who later discovered he was a fugitive from justice.

The man was held in the Niles jail Monday night and was taken to the county jail by Constable O. W. Ebright Tuesday to await extradition proceedings.

NILES FOOTBALL ELEVEN WINS OVER IRVINGTON 25 TO 13

Eighty Yard Run By Wes Raso Features Contest

Displaying a smooth running attack, the Niles Ramblers, a football team made up of ex-Washington high school stars and coached and captained by Lawrence "Bally" Pine, defeated the Irvington Reds on the Washington Union high school grounds Sunday morning. The score was 25 to 13.

Niles scored in the initial quarter when "Hurricane" Soito swept around end and galloped twenty-five yards for a touchdown. The try for extra point failed. Later in the same period, a fifty yard march with "Bally" Pine, C. Pine, and Soito packing the pigskin resulted in another score. Soito carried the ball into scoring territory with a seven yard jaunt off tackle. Soito on an end dash made the count 13 to 0.

In the second period, a well executed forward pass from C. Pine to Jim Booras brought the score to 19 to 0. Booras was in the clear and ran unmolested across the goal stripe. There was no more scoring during the first half.

The third quarter went scoreless with both teams battling up and down the field. In the fourth period, Irvington tallied two touchdowns on passes, with Bettencourt on the hurling end and Muniz receiving. Bettencourt made one on the tries for conversion good to bring the score 19-13.

The most thrilling play of the game occurred in the closing minutes, when Wes Raso, midget Niles halfback, broke loose around end and scuttled eighty yards for a touchdown. The play seemed to baffle the Reds. The game ended 25 to 13.

Outstanding in the Niles line were "Hank" Teeter and Ray Joliff, who opened huge holes through which the backs crashed for long gains. Teeter also did yeoman work on the defense, stopping the opposition for losses and no gain on many occasions.

In the Niles backfield, the line plumping of "Hurricane" Soito and the defensive work of C. Pine stood out. Wall Pond, Ted Loran and Paul Aust substituted for Irvington.

Shall We Vote The Bonds?

Alameda County is now facing a bond issue of $3,000,000 that it cannot very well fail to endorse. Funds are low and the needy growing in numbers, and their pitiable plight more sad as the weather grows colder and the rainy season approaches. Thousands who have slept outside or in makeshift shacks must now be provided with shelter; and more substantial food is needed for the body to stand inclement weather conditions.

During the summer months not so great hardships were encountered among the unemployed. They lived on fruit, with now and then a little meat, and did very well. The canopy of heaven offered a shelter not so unfriendly, and the stars kept them company above. Winter is different. The unfortunate shiver, and at their vitals gnaw the pangs of hunger that unsubstantial food will not ease.

A three million-dollar bond issue is not a pleasant contemplation to the already harried property owner. There would be no complaint, we believe, from the average man and woman upon whose shoulders this burden would fall, if it were established beyond dispute that the county government and the school systems were being conducted upon the very smallest costs, but at the same time not endangering efficiency, health or safety. If it were true that all the furbelows of education had been abolished during the stress of these unprecedented times, and that the overlapping of departments in county government had been corrected, and that county employees worked eight hours a day with the same industry obtaining in private enterprise, then in that case it would be a mean, miserly man who would object to being bonded to relieve distress.

But many do object in the face of actual conditions. We have a very definite and concrete example of wastefulness right here in Washington township. We have a school administration that could easily reduce its expenses $15,000 by the elimination of useless subjects and the trimming of salaries alone. No use saying it can't be done. It can be done, if there is a will. The city of Alameda has cut teachers' salaries in a very substantial manner during the last few weeks, in the face of signed contracts to the contrary.

Subjects, found useless, can be abolished and teachers dismissed.

Why not?

When our business falls off, do we keep a lot of idle people around eating up our substance? No! Neither does any other privately operated concern.

Conditions have arisen over which we have no control. Standards of yesterday are altered in the face of grim necessity.

The schools appear to think themselves immune from the lowering level of remuneration and the curtailment of luxuries. They would go on as before, squandering school money, and bringing the taxpayer to the brink of disaster. Already the county is practically broke. The state government is wobbling on the precipice of bankruptcy, and little effort is being made to economize. When the taxpayer refuses to pay, then, by necessity and not before, something will be done to clean out the stables.

It is really a distressing outlook. To vote the bonds will relieve the different branches of county administration of the absolute and unavoidable necessity of cutting expenses to the bone. Not to vote the bonds, apparently, will bring great suffering to unfortunate humanity and sow the seeds of Sovietism among Americans, who, by every instinct of birth and education revolt at the very thought of communism.

What we need is unity, which is hard to get in this particular part of California. Mass meetings are expedients unknown, and the power of concentrated action is not comprehended by the average person who has resided for a generation in the salubrious and languid climate of our state. Most of us are too lazy to fight. Public officials can bring us to the very edge of insolvency, and we never think it worth while to meet by the hundreds and thousands and tell our servants to clean up or take the yard-arm. They do this thing in Southern California, in the middle states and in the east, but out here in old California—well, IT'S MANANA!

A Rude Awakening

Well, it looks today like England and France, after doing a lot of loose talking, will step up to the cashier's window and make a deposit with Uncle Sam. Things are different now, you know. America, evidently, from now on is going to be run in the interests of Americans. Even Hoover's closest friends are changing front. A good whipping is good for a party as well as for a mischievous boy.

England's several diplomatic notes betray her incredibility of America having gone American. It is a sad awakening to the royal panhandlers; America has been reborn, and the magic name of Roosevelt has rekindled a dying patriotism.

Butting In

Political gossip is to the effect that Mike Kelly and Joseph Knowland have injected themselves into the selection of a successor to the late Charles W. Heyer. Both are Oakland politicians. While it is true that Heyer's supervisorial district juts into East Oakland, the appointment should, by all rules of the game, go either to Hayward or San Leandro. Oakland has sufficient representation on the board. But maybe

Victory Gives Reds First

League

Joseph "Jumping Joe" Blacow, red thatched pitching ace, carved a name for himself in Irvington's hall of baseball fame Sunday afternoon when he held the hard slugging Square Deal Malts baseball nine to two stingy hits in a 10 to 1 contest captured by Irvington.

As the result of the victory, the Irvington Reds are now holding down first place in the Inter-City League. It was the first defeat of the year for the Malts.

In addition to Blacow's stellar performance on the hilltop, the brilliant all around snappy play of the Irvington nine was a feature of Sunday's tilt. Powers and Pine again headed the Red's hitting attack, the former belting the ball for three safeties in five attempts and the latter connecting for four bingles out of five trips to the platter.

An appropriate and entertaining program of musical and dramatic numbers has been arranged for the evening by Salvatore Bellici, music instructor, and Miss Aubrey Nicely, dramatic coach.

The best school has to offer in dramatic talent will portray the characters in the play. Those taking part are Patricia Duffey, Katherine Whitefield, Lydia Dias, Ernest Garcia, Vasco Salvadorini, and James Booras.

Christmas carols will be sung by chorus from the boys' and girls' glee club, and the school orchestra will provide appropriate music.

A feature of the program will be the presentation of a tableau depicting in pantomime the subjects of the carols being sung. The performance is slated to begin at eight o'clock.

School Pupils To Present Spanish Play

Christmas plays to be presented in both Spanish and English will feature the Christmas program to be given by pupils of the Centerville grammar school Thursday afternoon, December 16, in the school auditorium.

A Christmas tree will adorn the auditorium, and a mixed boys' and girls' chorus from the school glee club will render several Christmas carols.

Among the highlights will be stunts from each class and from the scholarship society and the boys' "W" club. Another feature this year will be a stunt by the post graduate students.

Class B Quintet Wins 24 to 17 Contest; Unlimited Loses

Featuring rough play by both schools, Washington Union high school broke even in two practice basketball contests played against San Leandro high school in the Washington gym Friday afternoon.

Coach Jess Regli's Class B quintet took the measure of the San Leandros by a 24 to 17 count, while the unlimited five dropped a 21 to 13 decision.

In the unlimited contest, nine of the Cornhuskers counters were obtained via the foul route.

Washington Class B cagers took the lead from the opening whistle and never relinquished it throughout the game. The score at half time read 15 to 9 with Washington on the long end.

As usual Sekigahama was the shining light for the Cornhuskers.

This little ball hawk netted thirteen points and played a nice defensive game.

Fudenna was next in the high scoring column with six points.

Other Washington boys who saw action were Koga (2), Rogers (2), Kato (1), Kay, Whipple, Yamashita, Muni, Reina, and Brown.

San Leandro maintained a safe lead from the very beginning in the unlimited fray. At the end of the first half, the score board read 12 to 7 in their favor.

Martin was high point man for Washington with five points.

Coach Regli used a number of substitutes.

Washington lineup and scoring was:

Laybourne, Brown, Rathbone (1), Phippen (4), Rose, N. Brown, forward; Scott, Rodrigues, center; Coley (2), Brown, Muniz, Martin (5), Mederios (1), guards.

Washington will meet the Hayward unlimited and Class "B" fives tonight (Thursday) in the Centerville gymnasium. The first game is scheduled to begin at seven-thirty.

Last Tuesday night, the high school teams were victorious over the alumni in both divisions. The unlimiteds won their contest by a 32 to 25 score, and the Class B fives captured a 30 to 24 mix. In the former game, Rose captured high scoring honors for the high school with eleven counters.

Discourse on War Debts at Class In Pleasanton

Other Talks Fill Out Evening of Public Speaking Practice

A discussion of the ability of the foreign countries to pay their war debts to the United States was the basis of a speech made by Robert Dana, of Pleasanton, at the evening public speaking class, conducted by E. O. McCormick, last Tuesday eve.

Peter Christensen carried his audience through a few hundred years of future conditions, to have a view from long distance of conditions on the earth at the present time.

John Brommer had no stock to sell in his company, although he did present a detailed report of airplane testing as it is in progress today.

PROPOSED STATE TAX ECONOMY MEASURES ARE PRESENTED TO CHAMBER

Niles Civic Body Will Take Action at Future Meeting

Measures proposed by the California Taxpayers' Association suggesting economies which would bring a reduction in cost of state government estimated at $35,000,000 occupied the Niles Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Monday noon.

Although no definite action was taken by the chamber Monday, all the members revealed interest in the association's report composed of twenty-seven proposed measures to be brought before the state legislature at its next session. Elimination of and centralization of certain offices, enactment of measures to prevent duplication and overlapping, and other tax economy bills are contained in the report read to the civic body by E. A. Ellsworth, member of the chamber committee appointed last week to study the measures.

It was pointed out that the suggested measures are recommended by the tax association after two years of intensive study and investigation into all governmental offices in the state.

Among the suggested bills that aroused comment from the chamber members was one that proposes to make adult education in the state self-supporting. Under its provisions the state would not contribute to expenses of conducting night school classes except for those devoted to Americanization. Enactment of this measure would affect a saving to the taxpayers of $1,800,000, according to the report.

A proposed constitutional amendment to place property qualifications for all voters casting ballots in bond issue elections also drew comment for and against from civic body members.

Another measure arousing interest is that proposed for enactment is a law to provide for centralization of management of all schools in one district under one board of education. E. D. Bristow volunteered to obtain more information.

maton concerning this proposal and present it to the chamber at a future meeting.

At the suggestion of President F. V. Jones, it was decided to discuss the various measures more fully and take some action on the report at a later meeting.

After some discussion on the matter of protecting the lights in the pedestrian subway tunnel at the north entrance to Niles from breakage and theft, A. J. Petsche and H. L. Scott were ordered to confer with state highway officials to determine what could be done. It was suggested that the highway department install locks for the globes and covering appliances that also could be locked.

Dr. E. C. Grau reported that the committee appointed to decide upon a means of increasing the chamber's fund for welfare work, are in favor of holding a whist party during the latter part of January. It was felt that there would be too many other affairs to interfere with the success of holding a party before that time.

A. J. Petsche, secretary, was instructed to write a letter to Foster & Kleiser, advertising agency, expressing thanks and appreciation for the bill board advertising on First street boosting Niles.

President Jones urged a large attendance at the turkey whist party to be given by the Niles Parent-Teachers' Association at grammar school Friday night for the benefit of the school cafeteria milk fund. He pointed out that the association has brought improvement in the health of a large number of undernourished children at the school by feeding them milk, and the cause was worthy of the community's support.

Announcement was made by E. F. Glassbrook that George Barron, of the state highway patrol, will address the chamber next Monday. He will devote ten minutes to answering questions from the chamber concerning traffic regulations.

families in Pleasanton over the Thanksgiving holiday.

The children brought canned goods, fruits, vegetables and jellies to make up the boxes. Each box had enough food in it to last a family several days. Two baskets of food were made up at the Dublin school.

The food was distributed to the poor families by Miss Barbara Bradley, health nurse for Pleasanton township. In town she was assisted in her deliveries by John Delucchi, chief of police, and several boy scouts. Wilbur Davis delivered the out-of-town baskets.

A bolt of lightning struck the flag pole on top of the old fair building at the Pleasanton race track last Wednesday afternoon and split it from top to bottom.

Telephone and light wires in the building were burned out by the lightning. Until the lines were repaired, none of the race track buildings had any lights as a result of the bolt. A radio was also damaged by the flash.

Several telephone lines were put temporarily out of order by the rainstorm, but were soon repaired.

Allowing the engine to idle for any great length of time or constantly driving in high gear at low speed has a tendency to cause crankcase dilution because a certain portion of the fuel escapes into the crankcase via the cylinder walls.

LARGE THRONG WITNESSES IRVINGTON WIN SCOUT CUP

Over 500 Visitors Reveal High Interest In Scout Activities

An enthusiastic audience of over 500 people were present to acclaim the Washington township district Boy Scout rally held Friday night in the Washington high school gymnasium.

First place in the scout work competition was won by the Irvington troop with a score of 2333 points out of a possible total of 2600. Steadily gaining ground all year, the Irvington scouts were the most outstanding troop in the district rally. Niles troops Nos. 1 and 2 provided some stiff competition in the several events, the two troops tallying 4269 out of a possible 5200.

Points were awarded for punctuality, troop attendance, visitors' attendance, flag display, knot tying, signalling, songs, fire by friction, fire by flint and steel, first aid, games and yells.

Niles added fifty-nine visitors and twenty-five scouts and scouters for a grand total to the rally attendance.

Irvington troop was presented with a beautiful cup at the close of ceremonies, engraved with the date 1932. It is planned to award this cup each year to the troop winning at the annual rally. Three successive wins will enable a troop to retain the cup as a permanent trophy.

Irvington led the number of visitors present with almost 150. Decoto and Centerville had a large number of scouts and visitors present, although their troops did not participate.

Scout officials in the district have announced themselves as very gratified at Friday night's attendance. It is an indication to them that high interest is being evidenced in scout work for the young people.

Complete figures for all the troops are not yet available.

San Leandro will hold their district rally Friday night, while Hayward and the eastern district to hold their rallies late in the month.

Editorial Comment

NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

these gentlemen have their Hayward and San Leandro candidates. If so, worse and more of it.

The Register believes that Hayward and San Leandro are capable of running their own subdivisions without the advice and consent of Boss Kelly and Publisher Knowland. Both these gentlemen in their own bailiwicks may be as good as the average, and maybe a little better; but it is extremely bad manners to rush Hayward's five-ring political circus and try to grab the show.
